KHANH BACKS GENERALS

Throws Gauntlet to Washington Today

NEWSROOM NOTES—You've seen and heard people play the numbers game with their blood pressure. One woman says, "Last time I went to the doctor my blood pressure was 160," and her friend replies, "Mine was 170." Like people trying to keep up with the Joneses — or surpass them. One aim of the Heart Association is to help people understand what high blood pressure is, so that, rather than jest about or ignore the condition, or worry needlessly, they will seek help before serious damage is done.

In the first place everyone should know that the doctor records blood pressure a two numbers: 160/100 or 170/95, for example. The larger number indicates the pressure exerted by the blood against the artery walls at the moment the heart contracts to force the blood into the arteries. The lower number indicates the pressure in the arteries between heart beats. Both figures are important; both are considered separately and in combination by the doctor during his evaluation.

Then too, while the height of the blood pressure is important, it is only one factor in hypertension and other factors are important, too, according to specialists in the field.

One of these other factors is the length of time the pressure has remained elevated. Most important of all, perhaps, is the ability of the blood vessels to withstand the strain of a blood pressure that remains high over a long period of time.

If unchecked, persistent high blood pressure can cause harm in several ways. The heart must pump harder to force the blood through constricted arteries and, in the course of years, the added work may cause the heart to enlarge. The heart can function well with mild enlargement, but as enlargement progresses, the heart works less efficiently and heart failure may result.

Another serious consequence or complication of hypertension is that it accelerates hardening of the arteries, or atherosclerosis, the disease process underlying most heart attacks and strokes.

Much of what we now know about hypertension as a risk factor in heart attack has come from long-term population studies. In

River Ice Presents Danger

Last Sunday, a number of persons were seen walking on the ice on the Rock River near Dixon.

Each winter brings many inquiries to The Telegraph concerning the thickness and safety of the ice on the river.

The Telegraph advises all persons to stay off the ice as it is not of sufficient thickness to allow safe travel. The weather has not been consistently cold enough to allow the water to freeze solidly enough to allow safe passage.

Although ice skating and other winter sports have been carried on to some extent on the ice in the past, we would remind readers of the inherent danger that running water beneath the ice softens it to a dangerous degree, especially during the present mild weather.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, commander of South Viet Nam's armed forces, threw down the gauntlet to Washington tonight in an order solidly backing the young generals who purged the High National Council Sunday.

Khanh pointedly warned against foreign intervention in Vietnamese affairs and made it clear he would not go along with American demands that the purge be undone.

Radio Address

"We make sacrifices for the country's independence and the Vietnamese people's liberty, but not to carry out the policy of any foreign country," Khanh said in a radio address to the nation.

The ex-premier pledged the continued support of the armed forces for civilian Chief of State Phan Khac Suu and Premier Tran Van Huong, but reserved the right of the armed forces to change governments if they felt things were getting out of hand.

Challenge

This was a direct challenge to American demands that the Saigon civilian government have supreme authority over the armed forces, and that the armed forces should not have the right to upset the government whenever they see fit.

Khanh's speech presumably was broadcast partly to allay rumors sweeping Saigon that he had been arrested. Normally reliable sources reported earlier that Khanh had been ousted from his post as commander in chief and soon might be leaving the country. But indications tonight were that he was firmly in the saddle.

No Comment

U.S. spokesmen had no immediate comment. Americans said privately it looked as if the shutdown had come.

American officials said the purge has stymied plans being worked out to extend the war against the Viet Cong outside South Viet Nam.

The United States had made plans to step up aid to the Saigon government and for new measures against Communist infiltration. But these were contingent on the existence of a stable South Vietnamese regime.

Not Stable

America officials said that since the military dissolution Sunday of the High National Council, South Viet Nam's provisional legislature, a stable government has not existed and planning talks are indefinitely in abeyance.

The talks will resume only if the young generals who carried out the purge capitulate to the extent of creating some kind of legislature with real authority, the Americans said.

News in Brief

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — A stolen car that may have been used by bandits in the half-million-dollar cash robbery of a bank truck has been recovered, police said today.

Police said the car was found Monday night a few blocks from the church rectory where the holdup was staged Monday morning by three masked men.

Until now, two jackets, a pair of pants and a ski cap were the scant clues police had to work with. The car was being checked out.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Three of four men survived a cave-in at a coal mine. The fourth, buried under some 60 to 70 tons of coal more than 300 feet underground, was declared dead.

State mines officials said today workers would continue digging on a snow-swept mountainside near this eastern Pennsylvania community for the body of Lawrence Malachuk, 37, of nearby Plymouth. They estimated the task would take several days.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, who will coordinate federal civil rights efforts after he becomes vice president next month, says he hopes to know within 10 days whether the job will require creation of a new supervisory agency.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is telling its 970,000 men around the world that "in terms of the issues at stake, the war in Viet Nam is as critically important as any in history."

This statement is contained in a publication entitled "Our Mission in Viet Nam." Army officials said the 12-page publication is being distributed to Army men everywhere.

CHICAGO (AP) — ZIP code is playing Santa Claus this year.

The Post Office innovation is helping to speed delivery of Christmas packages throughout the country.

Last year some gifts didn't arrive until the third week in January because of a monumental jam in Chicago, which processes most of the parcel post going from coast to coast.

Thanks to ZIP code, agreed Postmaster Harry Senrow, Chicago now handles 17 per cent less parcel post.

Cooperation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans have shown "unprecedented public cooperation" in their Christmas mailing this year and 99 per cent of the cards and packages will be delivered by Christmas Eve, says Postmaster General John A. Gronouski.

Honeggers To Reopen Dixon Mills

Honeggers' and Co., Inc., Fairbury, has signed a long-term lease to operate Dixon Mills, Inc., 602 Depot Ave., and will reopen the mill early in 1965.

The agreement culminates months of negotiations aimed at working out a plan whereby the mill could be reopened and creditors' claims against the corporation might be paid.

George Wassenaar, principal stockholder of Dixon Mills, has assigned his control of the corporation to the Dixon National Bank, under a trust agreement, until such time as creditors' claims are satisfied.

Agreement

The basic agreement entered into with Honeggers' was unanimously approved at a November meeting of creditors who hold more than 75 per cent of the outstanding credit against the corporation.

The bank, acting as trustee for the general interest of creditors, has appointed three directors.

The directors, James P. Green, Lawrence Yingling, and Arnold Spangler, pointed out that the trust agreement for the benefit of creditors provides that a major portion of the rental paid under the lease agreement will accrue to the benefit of the creditors.

The board said creditors will be paid interest on their claims until they are satisfied.

Reveal

The directors also revealed that the bank, as mortgage holder, has deferred a substantial portion of payments on the loan to Dixon Mills for a period of five years, and that it has materially reduced the rate of interest charged on the outstanding loan of the corporation. This was done, the board said, in order that other creditors may be paid first.

In a letter to creditors, the board said, "Honeggers", in entering into this lease, has certainly shown good faith and will need to invest large additional sums in the plant for its successful operations. All of us feel that any assistance which the creditors can render will be beneficial to all creditors. A successful operation is necessary for the final payment of all creditors."

These factors, they pointed out, are important in predicting the successful operation of the mill following its re-opening.

A fire destroyed Dixon Mills in 1962 and following this Wassenaar negotiated an agreement with Honeggers' whereby the firm was

Business Holiday Closings

Most public businesses in Dixon will observe special holiday hours this weekend.

Many downtown firms will also observe special holiday hours while others will continue business as usual on Christmas Eve.

A partial list of the special hours follows:

The Dixon Water Department and City Hall will close at noon on Thursday and remain closed until normal opening hours on Monday.

The two Dixon banks will continue normal business hours on Thursday and reopen for their regular Saturday abbreviated business hours.

The Dixon Chapter of the American Red Cross will be closed all day Thursday but in an emergency, help can be reached by calling 288-1513 or 288-2488.

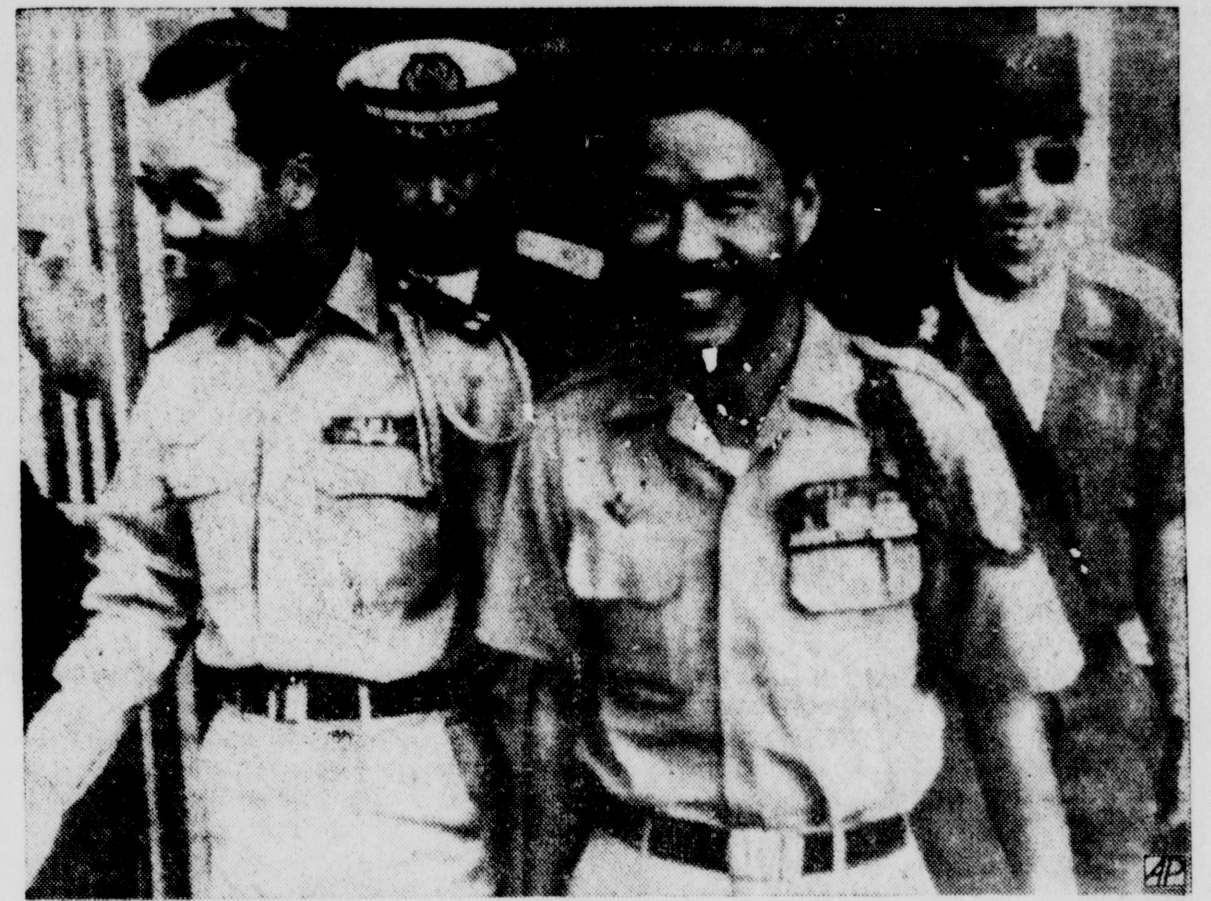

The Lee County Courthouse will be open all day Thursday and normal business hours will resume on Monday.

The postoffice will be open until 5 p.m. Christmas Eve, and by order of the U.S. Postmaster General John A. Gronouski, the post office will be closed both Friday and Saturday.

Normal business hours will be resumed on Monday.

Weather

Continued cloudy with no important temperature changes tonight and Wednesday. Some periods of light drizzle mainly tonight and early Wednesday.

LBJ Officials Ponder Budget

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson went over the Defense Department budget today with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

McNamara and the military leaders of the Pentagon flew to the LBJ Ranch from Washington for final decisions on who gets how much in the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Officials

Accompanying McNamara were Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the joint chiefs; Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff; Adm. David L. McDonald, chief of naval operations; Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, and Gen. Wallace M. Greene, commandant of the Marine Corps.

While the Texas White House didn't say so specifically, the military leaders presumably were brought along so they could appeal directly to the President to restore any reductions in their requests for funds.

Dr. Donald Hornig, presidential assistant for science and technology, said today Johnson is "determined that we are going to maintain the leadership" in science and technology.

Hornig has been sitting in on the budget conferences at the ranch.

Spending

Hornig said the government is spending about $15 billion a year, or about 15 per cent of the total budget, on science and technology.

"On the basis of anything published," Hornig said, this country is ahead of the Soviet Union in space.

Uncommitted Hold Fate Of Burch

WASHINGTON (AP) — An uncommitted group of from 15 to 30 National Committee members appeared likely today to decide whether Dean Burch holds on to his job as Republican national chairman.

Burch made it clear Monday after a conference with Sen. Barry Goldwater and Rep. William E. Miller, that he intends to go down to the wire fighting to retain his $30,000-a-year post. Goldwater was the GOP standard bearer in last month's election. Miller was his running mate.

The chairman told an informal news conference in the driveway in front of Goldwater's apartment he believes he has the solid backing of 65 of the 132 National Committee members who will meet in Chicago Jan. 22 and 23 to determine whether he will continue to head the party machinery.

City Council Wishes All Happy Yule

A short pre-Christmas City Council meeting this morning lasted only about nine minutes as Mayor George Lindquist wished a "Happy Holiday season to all city residents."

Lindquist also congratulated and thanked all city employees for a good year and he expressed hope that 1965 will be as good a year for the city as was 1964.

All four commissioners heartily endorsed the mayor's sentiments. In more formal city business, the council approved the appointments of two new directors for the KSB Hospital Board of Directors, and reappointed another director.

Mrs. Eunith Leydig was reappointed to the board and Mrs. Edna Gross and Mrs. Theo Walder were appointed to replace Mrs. Henry Lovett and Mrs. Cal Tyler, who resigned from the board.

The terms of the three ladies will expire on Dec. 31, 1967.

Street Commissioner Harold Bay again announced that normal Friday trash collections will be made on Thursday this week and next due to the holidays.

Because the crews have to work almost a double shift on the two Thursdays, Bay requested residents to have their trash barrels at curbside by 6 a.m.

The members also examined, approved and ordered paid bills and labor totaling $19,017.30.

Attempts To Halt Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The Johnson administration moved today to try to head off an Atlantic to Gulf Coast dock strike as wildcat walkouts crippled pier operations in New York and Baltimore.

Sleek TFX Fighter Looks Good in Maiden Flight

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The sleek fighter plane which figured in the stormy TFX debate successfully executed an airborne test Monday although a minor malfunction cut short the maiden flight.

The supersonic F111, a multi-purpose craft commonly called the TFX, made a 21-minute test hop from Carswell Air Force Base and its brief performance brought praise from many quarters.

Citations

Citations came from both the Air Force and the Navy, for whom the swept-wing aircraft was designed.

The test was scheduled for 40 minutes but was cut in half because the two-man crew was unable to retract the plane's wing flaps after takeoff.

Project directors called the malfunction minor and said a second test would come in a week or 10 days.

Test pilot Richard L. Johnson and copilot Val E. Prah flew the craft at a top speed of 230 miles per hour. Plans had called for a maximum speed of just under 350 m.p.h.

Altitude

The plane reached an altitude of more than 15,000 feet.

Despite the apparent success of the initial flight, there were reports that the project is encountering cost problems and that the Navy is disturbed about what it considers the F111's excessive weight.

Frank W. Davis, president of General Dynamics' Fort Worth plant, where the plane was assembled, said this was not the case.

"It's not as far as I'm concerned," he said. "We're just about on cost and we're 10 days ahead of schedule."

He said if the Navy is unhappy, "you'll have to talk to the Navy about that."

Navy Says

The Navy's project supervisor, Capt. Donald C. Davis, said: "It sure looked wonderful."

I'd put 'Navy' on it right now." Air Force Secretary Eugene Zuckert, describing himself as a "most happy fellow," declared: "This successful accomplishment of a milestone in a program of great importance to our national security is indeed significant."

"The versatility of this aircraft promises to meet the demands for mobility, supersonic performance and great striking power."

The F111 features a variable sweep-wing concept which enables the tactical machine to spread its wings for slow flight and tuck them in for high speeds. It is capable of flying 2.5 times the speed of sound.

Dec. 29 — 4-H County Outstanding Trip, Chicago
Dec. 30 — Rural Youth Christmas Party

Outstanding Trip

Approximately 55 4-H County outstanding members and 4 adults will tour the Dynacolor Corp. in Aurora, the telephone company in Aurora and Underwriters Laboratory as part of their trip Tuesday, December 29.

In addition to the above the 4-H members will spend some time at the Museum of Science and Industry and climax their day's events by viewing "My Fair Lady."

The trip is sponsored by the Lee County Bankers Association and the 4-H Federation. Adults accompanying the members are Mrs. George Swallow, Mrs. Roy Prindaville, Mrs. Karen Stegbauer, assistant home adviser and George Swallow, assistant farm adviser.

"Nutty" Time

Deep down in the toe of a Christmas stocking there is bound to be a handful of almonds or walnuts. And atop the festive fruitcake — an array of pecans.

There is no doubt about it — the holiday season from Thanksgiving to Christmas is one of the "nuttiest" times of the year. But you'll notice that nuts are finding their way onto more dinner tables in a greater variety of ways at other seasons of the year.

We've been eating more nuts than ever before. Since 1920, per capita consumption of tree nuts has increased more than 50 per cent rising from about 1 pound a year to nearly 1.9 pounds in 1963. And no longer are tree nuts used exclusively by confectioners or for out-of-hand eating.

Almonds are becoming more and more important in prepared food mixes and frozen foods. Noodles almondine, green beans with almond slices, cake and frosting mixes using almonds, and a number of other prepared foods are finding their way into our everyday menus.

Almonds are now diced, sliced, slivered, blanched, roasted and salted so that there is a right form to meet almost every food need.

Pecans also pop up quite often in the U.S. household. As a matter of fact, pecans are the fastest growing tree nut on a per capita consumption basis. Since 1920, consumption has jumped nearly half a pound per person and pecans now total nearly a fourth of all the tree nuts we eat. Most pecans are found in bakery products; the baking industry used nearly 38 per cent of the total supply in 1961. But a large amount of pecans are also sold in the shell or in shelled, salted mixtures for nibbling. Candy and ice cream manufacturers also use pecans in many of their products.

Walnuts are still sold mostly in the shell. But there has been a rapid growth in the popularity of vacuum-packed tins or cellophane wrapped packages of shelled walnuts for use by housewives in home food preparation.

Of the tree nuts which aren't grown domestically, cashews have recorded the largest consumption gains since the 1920's. The U.S. now takes more than half of the world's cashew exports, an average of 29,133 tons per year between 1959-62. Practically all of the cashews are used by the nut salting trade but they are becoming increasingly popular in the confectionery trade also.

In the years ahead, population increases will probably bring about ever greater demand for tree nuts. And while nuts are still so-called luxury items, it may be commonplace to find them on many American dinner tables — in main dishes or desserts — as incomes rise in the future.

By good fortune, peanuts — and peanut products — will be in plentiful supply during the holiday season, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Marketing Service. Large prominent displays are likely in food stores, making this a good time to stock up for baking, snacking and stuffing Christmas stockings.

If purchasing a large amount at one time, remember to keep peanuts in a tightly closed container — in the refrigerator. They'll stay crisp and flavorful this way.

Lee Pork Producers To Organize

At a recent meeting of the Lee County Extension Council and the Extension Livestock Committee, Jan. 18 was set for an organizational meeting of a Lee County Pork Producers Association Local. The meeting will be held at the Farm Bureau Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Membership is open to all pork producers in the county. All producers are urged to attend this organizational meeting. As a member of the county local, the producer is also a member of the state and national associations. The national association — The National Pork Producers Council — is the only recognized national swine organization.

The objectives of the county association are to carry on quality improvement projects and promote pork through consumer and producer information. These objectives are reached through county carcass shows, carcass demonstrations and exhibits, cooperation with swine testing stations, tours and educational meetings.

R. C. Coddington, executive secretary of the Illinois Pork Producers Association, will attend the organizational meeting.

DHIA Meet Is Jan. 6

The Lee County Dairy Herd Improvement Association will hold its Annual Meeting Jan. 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the Loveland Community House in Dixon.

All Lee County dairymen are invited to attend the meeting.

Included in the business session will be the election of the association's 1965 officers.

The program will include discussions on nutrition and mastitis and its control, led by veterinarians, Dr. Louis Ohlendorf and W. J. McEniry.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Yeast Breads For Holidays

By PEARL W. BARNES
Ogle Co. Home Adviser

One of our most popular extension lessons last year was "Yeast Breads of Other Lands." Many extension cooperators are baking some of these holiday breads for Christmas giving.

There is still time to make yeast bread for Christmas.

Every country has its own breads for the holiday season — Kulich from Russia, Strusel from Austria and Stollen from Germany. A Stollen recipe is as follows:

STOLLEN

1 Recipe Basic Sweet Dough (a standard cook book will have a recipe for this)
1/2 cup chopped blanched almonds
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon margarine or butter
1/4 cup finely cut candied citron
1/4 cup finely cut candied cherries
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Make Basic Sweet Dough. Stir in almonds, citron, cherries and lemon rind before adding the last cup of flour. Then finish mixing dough and knead. Shape into smooth ball. Place in lightly greased bowl. Cover and let rise until doubled (about 2 1/2 hours).

Punch down. Cover and let rest about 5 minutes. With palms of hands press dough into oval shape a scant 1/2 inch thick. Spread half of oval with soft margarine or butter. Mix sugar and cinnamon. Sprinkle over margarine or butter. Fold unspread half lengthwise over sugar and cinnamon, making edges even. Lift to lightly greased baking sheet. Curve the ends slightly. Press down the folded edge (not the open edge). This helps the loaf keep its shape as it rises and bakes. Cover and let rise until doubled (about 1 1/4 hours). Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Remove from baking sheet. When cool, frost and decorate.

We'd be glad to send the lesson sheets for "Basic Yeast Breads" or for "Yeast Breads of Other Lands" to anyone interested.

Farm, Family Management School To Begin Jan. 8

Dates for the Farm and Family Business Management school in Lee County will begin Jan. 8 and will meet from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Ashton Bank for six consecutive Fridays.

In these sessions, each farm couple works out a plan for their own farm and family business. They plan the crop and livestock programs, estimate the amount of income needed for their family living, and figure amounts of credit that may be needed to meet their farm income and family needs.

Instructors include Al Bouslog, area adviser in this district, Asst. Farm Adviser George Swallow and Home Adviser Frances Reeverts.

Any couple interested in attending the school should contact the farm or home adviser not later than Dec. 26. No more than 20 enrollments can be accepted, since the instructors want time to work with each couple in developing their plans.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 22, the 357th day of 1964. There are nine days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1944, Brig. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe sent his historic reply to a German demand for surrender of Bastogne in the Battle of the Bulge. McAuliffe told the Nazi commander: "Nuts."

On this date: In 1781, the Marquis de La Fayette sailed from Boston for France after 4½ years in the U.S. after the Revolution.

In 1807, Congress passed the Embargo Act aimed at cutting off trade completely with Europe.

Compton Sunday School Program Is Thursday

COMPTON — The Sunday School Christmas program of Immanuel Lutheran Church will be presented at 7 p.m. Thursday. On Friday at 10 a.m. the Christmas worship service will be held.

The Church School of the Methodist Church will present its Christmas program at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and will include the Christmas worship service.

The bowling team, Jacob's Gulftettes and their husbands had supper Saturday evening at a Triumph restaurant and then were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schnuckel for cards. Others in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bierwirth, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Brewbaker, and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dierick.

High in cards was won by Mrs. Dierick; second was Mrs. Bierwirth and third and lone hands went to O. L. Brewbaker.

'Great Society' Long Way Off

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Johnson dined it into American heads that he wants to build the "Great Society" but he never said exactly how and he never quite said when.

He still hasn't given details but this week, after he called in a group of reporters to let them interview him provided they didn't quote him, it was clear he thinks the Great Society will be many long years in the making.

Since last April he had dwelt on the Great Society theme repeatedly, although not recently, pledging his administration to build it. He mentioned three places to start: in the "cities... countryside... and classrooms."

Foundation Stones

One of his foundation stones, to be offered the new Congress in January, will be medical care for the aged — a plan tied to Social Security. Others will be road-building programs and funds for health facilities in mining areas.

This is a modest enough beginning for a man who did so well in the November election which also gave his Democrats overwhelming control of Congress. He has been extraordinarily un-noisy for a victorious politician.

But the explanation is that he doesn't want to waste any of the good will and influence he won through pressure tactics or unnecessary conflicts. In short, he seems bent on following a very moderate road.

He wants to avoid the pit President Franklin D. Roosevelt fell into when, after his tremendous election triumph in 1936, he damaged his effectiveness badly, particularly in Congress, by his fight in 1937 over reshaping the Supreme Court.

Another Side

There's another side to that story. The court in Roosevelt's first term wrecked one New Deal program after another. But after Roosevelt began his fight the court — through resignations, new appointments and no doubt great self-consciousness — swung around to Roosevelt's side.

Johnson, despite his caution, may stumble into the same pit of unpopularity but in the opposite way if he is faced with an issue that badly needs fighting but tries to avoid it.

More than any president in this century — with the exception of Dwight D. Eisenhower who in eight years never really said anything to make people mad at him — Johnson for some time should have the least trouble with Congress.

Congressional Mind

He knows the congressional mind, having been part of it himself so long, and accomplished a great deal as a Senate Democratic leader by the technique he seems bent on following now: the soft approach and compromise.

Compromise, of course, means an absence of sensational victories.

After watching Johnson for years it is this writer's belief his philosophy of achievement is based on making progress through an accumulation of limited advances instead of on a few sensational triumphs.

In this way he can hope — although both the liberal and conservative sides may be angry when each doesn't think it got enough or one thinks the other got too much — neither will have ground for enough irritation to be an enemy.

Paw Paw Christmas Program

PAW PAW — The Presbyterian Church Christmas program will be held Christmas Eve. The program will start at 7:30 p.m. with the Christmas Story which will be portrayed by the children of the Sunday school.

The Mariners will close the program with a candlelight service.

The Methodist Church Christmas program will be held on Thursday, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Kemling will read his version of the Christmas story. The nursery and kindergarten classes will take part in a birthday party for Jesus by laying their gifts of mittens and socks on the altar. They will share a birthday cake, which is being made and decorated by Mrs. Harold Hoelzer.

The children's offering of mittens and socks will be sent to Mercy Center, a settlement house in Chicago.

The offering of the congregation will be used to buy Bibles to present to the Church School Children.

To conclude the program slides "The Other Wise Man" by Henry Van Dyke, will be shown.

Hairdos Are Designed for Little Girls

By VIVIAN BROWN

At Yuletide, a little girl's hairdo should match her age, says Eric Knudsen, hair expert who deplores "mommy" style hairdos on small fry.

A simple haircut and Christmas adornments — little bells, bows or other symbols of the season is all a little girl needs to "look adorable," he says.

"A most interesting experience for a hairdresser," he says, "is to figure who to please — mother or daughter. Both have set ideas. Little girls like long straight Alice-in-Wonderland styles. Mothers like pony tails or curly hair. Neither Alice or pony styles are good for little girls," he observes.

In his travels around the country as a hair adviser for a manufacturer of hair preparations, he has noted tortuous effects of the pony tail.

"The friction of a pony tail or braids between scalp and pillow is particularly bad. Many pony tails cause infection because of the continuous pull and irritation at the back of the head. Braids wouldn't be bad if mother would brush out the hair before bedtime, but I'm afraid some mothers become lazy about it," he says.

The reason Eric doesn't favor the long Alice style is that the hair is usually not cut often enough.

"Around 7 a little girl loses her baby hair. But some mothers let a child's hair grow for 3 years before they cut it. Frequent haircuts, even at 3 and 4 years of age, make for better hair later. It will be stronger, too."

One problem is that mothers of curly-haired children, blondes in particular, don't want to cut off the hair because at about seven or eight, the hair changes color. Once you cut it the blondeness and curls are gone.

It is inevitable that the hair will be cut, so cut it as soon as possible, he says. There are new body permanents that may be given so that hair can be shampooed and never set.

Nelson Shower Is Given for Recent Bride

NELSON — Mrs. Raymond James, Dixon, the former Miss Dixie Hamilton, was guest of honor at a recent post-nuptial shower in the Nelson Village Hall arranged by Mrs. Robert Moeller, Mrs. Ralph Mayberry, Mrs. June Bibey, Mrs. John H. Moeller, Mrs. Dillard Oiler and Mrs. Thomas Wilder.

Card games provided party entertainment and prize winners included Mrs. Leo Todhunter, Mrs. James Miller, Mrs. Martha Aggen and Miss Ruth Moeller.

A Christmas arrangement centered the refreshment table, and the gift table was decorated in blue and white, selected colors of the recent bride. The honoree was assisted in opening gifts by Miss Becky Wilder and Miss Margaret Gall.

Out-of-town party guests were Mrs. Marion Washburn, Mrs. Jean Aggen and Miss Judy Aggen, Rock Falls.

Christmas Program at Washington School

Cast members of a musical playlet, "The Little Fir Tree," given by Washington School second grade students taught by Mrs. Vera Gerdes and students of Mrs. Lucy Padgett's first grade, are shown above during a rehearsal for their portion of Monday's annual Christmas program in the school auditorium. In the performance, the Toy Scouts, portrayed by second graders in the first row, and the Christmas Toys, enacted by first graders in the second row, assisted a fairy in convincing the "little fir tree" of the importance in being selected as a Christmas tree. Other portions of the entertainment included "The Best Part of Christmas," a play by fifth graders taught by Mrs. Vernice Bross; "December Speaks," a skit by Mrs. Margaret Dean's sixth graders who represented important people and events associated with December, and musical selections by the Washington Girls' Chorus, composed of seventh and eighth grade girls directed by Miss Nan Richards. The program concluded with Christmas carols sung by the chorus and members of the audience.

Recent Vows Are Exchanged By Miss Slater, Mr. Hermes

HARMON—Miss Rita Jean Slater, daughter of the Robert Slaters, Sterling, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Giblein, Harmon, with whom she lived, became the bride of James Hermes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hermes, Rock Falls, in a recent wedding held in St. Andrews Catholic Church, Rock Falls.

Nuptial music for the ceremony was provided by Mrs. Steven Murphy who played a prelude of organ music and accompanied the vocalist, Mrs. Frank Kliche.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white embroidered tulle complemented by a bridal veil of nylon illusion attached to a seed pearl crown. Her flowers were white rosebuds and carnations combined in a cascading bouquet.

Miss Mary Kathryn Slater, Sterling, who attended her sister as maid of honor, wore a red velvet frock and a matching nylon and velvet headpiece, and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue and green brocade dress with matching accessories.

For the ceremony, Mrs. Slater selected a gold brocade dress and gold accessories, and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue and green brocade dress with matching accessories. Harry Hermes, cousin of the bridegroom, acted as groomsmen, and wedding guests were ushered by Walter Hodges, Rock Falls, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and William Giblein, the bride's cousin.

Guests attending a reception held in the church social hall following the service were registered by Miss Donna McNamara. A four-tiered wedding cake decorated in red and white was served by the bride's sister, Mrs. Lynne Fossett, and coffee and punch were poured by Miss Rosemary Vallette and Miss Debbie O'Brien.

Holiday Dinner And Program for Church Class

Mrs. Gene Moss and Mrs. Robert Coleman were co-hostesses at a recent Christmas meeting for members of the Park Manor Baptist Church Homemakers' Class which included a dinner served in the church social hall for 17 members and guests.

A skit, "Lottie Moon's Christmas Offering," was presented during the after-dinner program by Mrs. Moss, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. LeRoy Smith and Mrs. Wallace Manis, and Mrs. Moss described contributions made by Lottie Moon, a Baptist missionary in China for 40 years. The program concluded with a poem, "The Christmas Rose," read by Mrs. Donald Crader, and "secret pal" names were revealed during an exchange of gifts.

Mrs. Manis was announced as hostess for the next class meeting in January.

NAIL CONDITION

The condition of your fingernails often hints at a changing state of health. An envelope a day of unflavored gelatin still is a help in restoring brittle, rippled or cracked nails. A medical test showed this worked in seven out of 10 cases. Since it takes 60 to 90 days for your nails to grow, you must continue the treatment for the full period.

Decorating IDEAS

By Al Vandenberg

When one room must serve several purposes, as is not uncommon these days, the decorating trick is to preserve a feeling of free-flowing space and at the same time demarcate its area according to function.

The best ways to do this are with lighting, with careful furniture grouping and most important of all—with color.

In the dual-purpose area sketched above this has been most artfully accomplished by holding the walls and floor to one color—pale driftwood. The tile floor, of older vintage material, was given three coats of porch and deck paint the identical shade of the flat enamel used on the walls. This has a tendency to make the space appear to be larger than it is and has a unifying effect.

The living area of the room has been defined by using an area rug. Colorful draperies of fabric which matches the sofa cover tie the two areas together. Space has been artfully conserved without an effect of crowding.

Lincoln School Students Will Give Programs

Lincoln Elementary School students will participate in performances of a Christmas program at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Wednesday in the school auditorium.

The entertainment will feature Christmas music, a playlet entitled "A Visit to the North Pole," with Ricky Munson and Mary Aldorfer portraying Santa Claus and Mrs. Santa, and selections by Joanne, Susan and Dianne Williams, a clarinet trio.

Miss Rosalie Hanson, vocal music instructor in the Dixon schools, will provide piano accompaniment for the musical numbers, and Monte Long will serve as announcer.

The programs, sponsored by the seventh grades taught by Alice Hoban and Fred Padgett, will include Christmas songs by pupils enrolled in kindergarten classes and the first through eighth grades, a Nativity scene enacted by students of the special education class and selections by the Boys' Chorus directed by Miss Hanson and Mrs. Helen Carpenter.

The concluding number for each program will be "Silent Night" to be sung by the pupils and members of the audience.

'Sukarno Red Organ-Grinder'

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
President Sukarno has received "reassurances" from Indonesian President Sukarno that he regrets his gangs smashed our Jakarta embassy again and burned four U.S. information centers.

This Red organ-grinder has been making a monkey of America for years. A cool billion dollars of our taxpayers' money has been wasted on the high-living despot who once expressed his gracious gratitude to Ambassador Howard P. Jones: "To hell with your American aid."

Some years ago the State Department asked me to entertain Sukarno at "Monticello," which he said he wanted to visit. He eulogized Jefferson's democratic ideals in a broadcast from the steps of the beautiful mansion. A few months later he was eulogizing Lenin in Moscow's Red Square. What this renegade would do with our friendship was never harder to guess than what a leopard would do to a goose.

Now 63, Sukarno owes his first power in Indonesia to collaboration with the Tokyo war lords. When the Japanese fanatics poured through Hong Kong's hospitals on Christmas Day, 1941, bayoneting the patients and carrying off the nurses, he sent a message from Jakarta congratulating the Japanese commander on the fall of the city.

From that time on, throughout World War II, Sukarno was a Charlie McCarthy on Tokyo's knee. Then, with the Red takeover of China, he promptly became the Sino-Soviet puppet and attacked The Netherlands and Great Britain.

The Indonesian archipelago consists of more than 3,000 islands spread across an area wider than the United States. An estimated 95 million people live there, giving the world about half as many Indonesians as there are Americans. "A sizeable target for our people's hard-earned taxes," House subcommittee Chairman Otto E. Passman (D., La.) once skeptically observed.

For years on end U.S. foreign aid officials have admitted that Indonesia in Sukarno's hands has proven an unsound recipient of our taxes. Nevertheless, Aid Director David E. Bell typified the incredible policy by stating: "It's a holding operation."

Who held what — for a billion dollars? From the beginning America has been holding the bag. Meanwhile, backed by both Red China and the U.S.S.R., Sukarno swore death to newborn Malaysia, the last free consolidation formed out of the British Empire in Southeast Asia and consisting of Malaya, Singapore and the two territories of Sarawak and Sabah on the island of Borneo.

Bobby Kennedy
This is the point at which our then Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy charged into the picture, alas, and staged the highly publicized "cease-fire" conference with Sukarno in Tokyo.

He not only offered to review more aid to Sukarno but also proposed himself to mediate with the British and Dutch, to the alarm of Netherlands Minister of Foreign Affairs Dr. Joseph Luns. Then at The Hague Mr. Kennedy announced that he found Dr. Luns "very emotional" about Sukarno and stated that Sukarno "will live up to his agreements with me."

By sounding off in the world press about the internal affairs of quarrelsome nations, Mr. Kennedy compounded an already bad situation. Moreover, he put America's neck right in the middle of the fight between Sukarno, the Dutch and the British—which is exactly where our neck is today.

Malaysia Outpost

Malaysia is a difficult anti-Communist outpost to defend, some parts separated by 400 to 1,000 miles of the South China Sea. Sukarno fronts for the Sino-Soviet combine that shows no disunity whatever in this thrust. His aggression is spearheaded by Red Chinese settlers and guerrillas from Mao Tse-tung's Peking ranks. The Russian contribution is chiefly pilot instructions and planes and good, warm gold.

Sukarno is a useful tool to accomplish two main objectives in threatening the unity and even the survival of prosperous, independent Malaysia. A Red Malaysia would outflank the splendidly anti-Communist Philippines, which are nearby, and at the same time liquidate the nation as a bastion against Sino-Soviet designs in Southeast Asia.

Yet puppet Sukarno is the man who currently accuses the United States of "imperialism" in Asia while he and his Moscow-Peking masters try to make still another free country a new, horrific South Viet Nam. His words to President Johnson are about as reliable as a 10-cent clock.

Too many people forget that Christmas is a birthday celebration as well as a peg for parties.

After Thanksgiving many a housewife had to hash things out with her family.

Whoever devises the plots of television soap operas has odd ideas of good clean fun.

Chances are the loud-mouthed office ear-bender doesn't dare open his yap at home.

"Snow, snow, beautiful snow . . ." Oh, YEAH?

There's always someone to take you down a notch, when you're feeling on top of the world.

There's the "friend" whose only comment on how you look after you've struggled to lose 10 pounds is, "You look tired; aren't you feeling well?"

There's the "friend" who never paid you any compliments on your long hair, but who says in a stricken voice as soon as you've shorn it, "Oh, you've gone and cut your lovely hair!"

There's the "friend" who says sweetly after meeting your years-older brother, "Let's see now; that's your younger brother, isn't it?"

There's the "friend" who makes you feel overdressed for an occasion by remarking, "you must be going to another party from here."

There's the "friend" who looks over the new home you consider spacious and says, "Nice, LITTLE place you have here."

There's the "friend" who shudders delicately at the specialty of your house and says, "I don't dare think of the number of calories in that."

There's the "friend" who reminds you, when you have just been elected president of an organization, that you've taken on a thankless task.

There's always someone to take you down a peg.

Christmas Fat Man's Best Season

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Every person has a reason to enjoy the Christmas season.

But the fat man has the most reasons. It is his time of year. He basks in the shadow of the overpowering public acceptance of the plumpness of Santa Claus.

The week before Christmas and the week after the fat man is the symbol of plenty and joy on an earth that has never had too much of either.

The phrase, "Nobody loves a fat man" becomes the phrase, "Everybody loves a fat man." It is no longer un-American to be overweight.

Fat Man

The fat man becomes a kind of walking Christmas tree spreading gladness and contentment wherever he goes.

The people who used to laugh at him now laugh with him. Anything he says is cheery and jolly and funny.

They love to see the fat man's chuckle spread from one dimple across his wide facial horizon to the other dimple, then ripple down his three or four chins and echo back with a deep belly laugh.

Those who normally punch his protuberant tummy in ridicule now pat it with affectionate respect, for it stands for something they recognize as important: mankind having a good time in a sorry century.

And the fat man, the ambulant shaven image of Santa Claus, loves his role to the hilt.

"Pass me the mashed potatoes," he cries deliciously. "Where's the gravy? Be sure to save me two pieces of mince pie for dessert."

Strangers Look Up

And strangers in the restaurant look up and smile and beckon to a waiter and tell him, "Send that fat fellow over there an after-lunch drink, and put it on my bill."

Yes, the fat man is the hero of the hour. All are pleased as Punch to see him waddling merrily by.

And what about the fat man himself? Does he really relish this unexpected bonus of adulation? Is he all that happy within?

No, sad to relate, he is only playing Pagliacci for the fickle crowd, hollering "Ho, ho, ho!" outside, while inside he is crying to himself, "Boo, hoo, hoo!"

During the Christmas season he stuffs himself more than he really wants to, he overeats to please the mob, because this is what they demand of him. He is an actor who must satisfy his audience. The show must go on.

But he knows that on the first of January the show will end. The season of overindulgence will be over. The fat man will again become for the next 50 weeks just a guy taking up too much space in a crowded world.

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I agree with you about 95 per cent of the time. Today I feel the need to set you straight.

Your statement that doctors are immune to the charms of attractive women patients is ridiculous. If this were true no physician would be able to find a woman sexually attractive. And few physicians would ever be married.

I speak as an attorney who has maintained an active practice for 20 years. I've heard hundreds of complaints about physicians from women who have been subjected to questionable behavior and comments during physical examinations.

I believe that most doctors behave themselves in the office but many do become involved with female patients. I know this is true because my father and two brothers who are doctors have discussed it quite openly for years. Do you dare print this? — BARE FACTS

Dear B.F.: Any physician who could become sexually aroused by the sight of a female patient on his examining table is too unbalanced to be practicing medicine. And if he survived even for a few years it would add up to a minor miracle.

Since there are thousands of physicians in this country, one must expect a few dingbats. Every field has them. I've heard some pretty wild stories about milkmen, postmen, plumbers and TV repairmen. Some stories are undoubtedly true, but most of the lurid tales are products of an over-worked imagination.

I would not say physicians are better behaved than lawyers, engineers or business executives, but I WILL say that romantic involvements do not start on the examining tables.

Dear Ann Landers: My best friend who has lived next door to me all my life is going to have a baby. She is 16. The boy who is responsible denied everything, left town and joined the Navy.

The baby isn't due for four months but everybody in town knows about it. She has decided to stay home and have the baby in hopes that the boy will come back and marry her.

I am planning an all-hen party for my 16th birthday next month. This girl has been invited to every party I've ever given. I don't feel it would be fair to leave her out now just because she is in trouble.

My mother says the girl's reputation is already ruined and now I must think about mine. We have been arguing for four days and I'm out of things to say. Am I wrong about this or is my mother wrong? — LOYAL LOUISE

Dear Louise: If this were a boy-girl party I'd side with your mother. Since it's a hen party I'm with you.

Your friendship and kindness can mean a great deal to the girl at this difficult time in her life. Offer it.

Dear Ann Landers: We are two high school students who want to know what you think of an English teacher who:

(1) Sips tea during class.
(2) Uses unbecoming language in the presence of his pupils.
(3) Criticizes other faculty members.

Must we respect him because he is older, and a teacher? We await your answer. — BLACK-BERRIES

(1) It's rude to eat or drink in the presence of others if you cannot ask them to join you.
(2) I don't know what you consider "unbecoming" language.
(3) Criticism of other faculty members to students is in bad taste.

I suggest a committee of 5 or 6 students present your complaints to the principal — assuming, of course, you are willing to repeat the charges in the presence of the teacher.

If excessive drinking is wrecking your health or destroying someone you love, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For the Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The first submarine to fly the Atlantic was Capt. Jacques-Yves Cousteau's two-man diving saucer. It was flown from France to California to carry scientists of the Scripps Institution down into sea canyons off La Jolla.

Things Dixon Talked About

(From the files of The Dixon Evening Telegraph)

10 YEARS AGO

Floyd Acker, former Dixon athlete, has been awarded his fourth football letter at Drake University. Acker was a halfback and co-captain for the Bulldogs this fall. Acker was bothered by a broken hand early in the season, but returned to the squad for the

The Doctor Says

Q—My father's feet got frost-bitten several years ago. Every winter, they hurt him when they get cold. What can he do to get relief?

A—Severe frostbite often leaves the victim with a decreased tolerance for cold.

Everyone should take all known precautions to prevent freezing of any part of the body.

In your father's case, he should wear heavy wool socks in cold weather and waterproof overshoes whenever he must walk in snow, slush or icy water.

If pain is severe, he may want to consider having the sensory nerves cut.

However, if he should have such an operation, he would have to be doubly careful not to expose his feet to freezing, because that could lead to gangrene and the loss of one or more toes.

Q—Is bursitis ever caused by a fall? One doctor says it could be; another disagrees. He says that a fall could cure bursitis by breaking loose the calcium deposits in the joint.

A—Although a fall can cause bursitis, this condition is much more likely to be caused by a recurring minor irritation. "Tennis elbow" is an example of this.

In some victims heat and rest do not produce a cure and motion in the involved joint is limited.

Forceful manipulation of the joint, preferably under anesthesia, may be required to break up the adhesions.

A fall might inadvertently produce the same result. Thus, in a sense both of the doctors you quoted are right.

Q—What diseases can cats give to a person? Is a cat bite dangerous?

A—Cats, with the exception of wild cats, rarely carry rabies. They may transmit a mild disease called cat scratch fever, but this, too, is rare.

The bite or scratch of any animal is likely to become infected and, unless properly treated, might possibly lead to blood poisoning.

Cats, like most domestic animals, will not bite or scratch unless they are teased or provoked.

That is why it is important for a child to have some kind of pet and to learn to care for it in a humane manner.

The First Christmas

But the Angel of the Lord who had announced Christ's birth was well aware of what Herod had in mind, for wickedness cannot be concealed from an angel.

Joseph thought he was dreaming when he heard the voice saying: "Arise, and take the young child and his mother and flee into Egypt, and be there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child and destroy him."

Joseph obeyed the voice of God's angel, and they departed.

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China announced today it captured a Nationalist Chinese pilot whose reconnaissance plane was shot down over East China.

Peking radio said the pilot was Maj. Hsieh Hsiang-ho. The Nationalist air force announced Saturday that one of its RF101s was missing on a coastal mission.

PARIS (AP) — Four French doctors have made what they believe is a new discovery in the cultivation of cancerous growths.

The doctors, led by Prof. Bernard Halpern, reported to the Academy of Sciences Monday that separate cancerous cells cultivated under special conditions tend to stick together and form a cancerous "structure."

Healthy cells treated under the same conditions did not form into a mass.

When the massed cancerous cells are grafted onto a healthy animal, the animal quickly develops malignant tumors, the doctors reported.

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet health official today criticized style-conscious young women who expose shapely legs to the Russian winter in flimsy nylons.

Antonina F. Akhabadze, director of the Institute of Medical Cosmetics of the Ministry of Health, warned the girls they were risking frostbite.

NEW YORK (AP) — Lenny Bruce has been sentenced to three concurrent four-month terms in the city workhouse for giving obscene performances at a Greenwich Village cafe.

A three-judge criminal court panel imposed the sentence Monday. Bruce remained free on bond pending an appeal.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Regina Hess

OREGON — Mrs. Regina Hess, 77, 603 Washington St., died this morning in Warmolts Clinic following a long illness. She was the widow of Sidney Hess, former Ogle County clerk.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete at Farrell Funeral Home.

Mrs. Beth Hubsch

FRANKLIN GROVE — Grave-side services for Mrs. Beth MacGregor Hubsch, 79, a former Franklin Grove resident, were held Saturday in Franklin Grove Cemetery.

Mrs. Hubsch died Thursday in Chicago.

She was born in Franklin Grove Nov. 16, 1885, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William MacGregor. She was married to Nick Hubsch, who preceded her in death.

She attended schools in Franklin Grove before moving to Chicago with her parents. She was a hat designer in Chicago until her retirement several years ago.

Mrs. Hubsch is survived by a sister, Mrs. George (Lucile) Martin, Skokie; and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Elizabeth Knuth

OHIO — Funeral services were held Monday for Mrs. Elizabeth Knuth, 90, a lifelong Ohio resident who died Saturday in St. Margaret's Hospital, Spring Valley.

Services were held in Immaculate Conception Church with the Rev. Edgar C. Taylor, pastor, officiating. Burial services were held in St. Mary's Cemetery.

She was born Feb. 2, 1874, in Ohio Township, the daughter of Antone and Sophia Conrad Walter Sr. She was married to William H. Knuth in 1910. He preceded her in death in 1927.

She and her sons operated a clothing store until 1946.

Mrs. Knuth is survived by two sons, Conrad, Ohio, and Leo, LaSalle; a daughter, Mrs. Lloyd (Mary) Fiesel, Battle Creek, Mich.; 11 grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren. She was also preceded in death by 10 brothers and sisters.

Darrel Lee Holle

LEE — Funeral services for Darrel Lee Holle, 22, who died Monday of injuries received in an auto accident Sunday, will be held Wednesday in the First Lutheran Church with the Rev. E. T. Einerson, pastor, officiating.

Burial will be in Lutheran Cemetery. Friends may call in the Thorsen Funeral Home, Shabbona, tonight.

He was born April 20, 1942, in Lee, the son of Darrel and Elsie Olson Holle.

Survivors include his parents and three brothers; a sister; and his grandmother, Mrs. Agnes Anderson, Shabbona.

Hazel Reed Is Oregon Goodwill Representative

OREGON — Interest in her fellow handicapped neighbors has prompted Miss Hazel Reed, 300 N. Sixth St., Oregon, to assume the duties as local Goodwill representative.

Miss Reed lives with her mother, Mrs. Olive Reed, and is employed at Oregon Manufacturing. She has been confined to a wheelchair since contracting polio when she was 10. She is a member of the Church of God congregation at Oregon.

Miss Reed will take the pickup calls for Goodwill Industries in the Oregon area, give out information about the agency serving the physically handicapped, and arrange for tours and presentations. She will work with the various clubs and organizations in Oregon, handle referrals, work with the Girl Scouts and 4-H clubs and in general handle the public relations for the agency. The Goodwill truck will be in Oregon, Jan. 11.

High Winds Rip Colorado As Snows Block Passes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One-hundred mile an hour winds roared through Colorado today and caused extensive, but undetermined, damage to the university city of Boulder. Two persons were hurt.

The gale-force winds blew off roofs, destroyed fences and knocked out power lines for several hours in Boulder and outlying areas.

One wall of the University of Colorado cyclotron building was blown down. Jefferson Airport, east of Boulder, reported 100 m.p.h. winds. Denver also had high winds, but no damage was reported.

In Wyoming, a snowstorm moved into the western part of the state dropping up to 6 inches on the area. High winds up to 70 m.p.h. piled up huge drifts. Highways were impassable in Hoback Canyon, Atlantic City and over the South Pass, south of Lander. Visibility was poor.

Farther northwest, huge snow slides closed the main east-west route from Seattle across the Cascade Mountains as storms continued to thunder across the west coast from California to Washington.

The snow slides spilled down on the four-lane Snoqualmie Pass Highway near North Bend, Wash., but no one was hurt. The slides, believed to have been caused by a warm spell, hit on both sides of the 3,000 foot summit.

State Highway Department crews cleared several smaller slides west of the summit.

Whole gale warnings were up as winds of 60 miles an hour hit coastal sections of Oregon. Fifty families near Portland were forced to leave their homes as rain and strong winds lashed that area.

In the flood-stricken Eel River Valley section in Northern California, more than 2,000 persons were evacuated from their homes as heavy rains fell through the night. Ukiah, Calif., measured more than 4 inches of rain in 24 hours.

Three inches of additional snow were added to a 14-inch snowpack in Kalispell, Mont., and 8 inches of additional snow in the western Montana and northern Idaho Rockies were on the way.

Some 600 residents in the summer resort town of Weott, Calif., 50 miles south of Eureka, fled their homes as the Eel River rose toward a record crest. The community was under five feet of water. Weather Bureau officials predicted the river would reach 27 feet, nearly 10 feet above flood level. That mark was reached in the disastrous floods in northern California in 1955.

The Humboldt County sheriff's office, which reported the evacuations, also said 400 residents fled their homes in Pepperwood and about 300 persons were removed from Myers Flat, Phillipsville, a town of 150 residents south of Myers Flat, was isolated.

In other parts of the West, record-breaking snowfalls piled up in the northern plateau region. Heavy snows fell in northern Idaho and western Montana. Schools in many areas were closed.

Lighter snow spread eastward across the northern tier of states into the Great Lakes region, with light snow in sections of the northern Atlantic Coast. Light rain, drizzle and fog dampened areas in the South-east.

Research has given our physicians new ways to diagnose and evaluate hypertension and new drugs to treat the condition. Between 1950 and 1962, the death rate among middle-aged men and women due to high blood pressure and related heart disease declined more than 50 per cent in this country. But there are still many more people who could be helped, if only they had regular physical examinations and carefully followed their doctor's instructions. Are you one of them?

State Police Report Area Accident

OREGON — Two tickets were issued following an accident involving an auto driven by Judy K. Griffin, 23, Chana, on the White Pines Blacktop, three miles west of Oregon, Monday night.

State Police said her auto was westbound on the blacktop when it skidded into a ditch after she lost control on ice.

She was ticketed for excessive speed and driving without a valid driver's license. Damage to her auto was listed at $200.

Resume Search

JUNEAU, Alaska (P) — An aerial search was resumed at day-break today for the 32 crewmen of the Japan-bound freighter San Patrick, driven aground in a storm last Thursday near the tip of the Aleutian Islands chain. Hope of finding any survivors dwindled.

Not until 25 years after death is a person eligible for election to the Hall of Fame for Great Americans.

They are charged with taking the purse of Mary Utz, 307½ Highland Ave., as she paused at her home to get housekeys from the purse. They were arrested the following day by Dixon police officers.

Rippey and Slusser are free on bonds of $2,000 each pending action of the grand jury which will meet on Jan. 5.

Events Occuring in Illinois Today Highlight News

Man Fatally Beaten in Rockford

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — A man was found fatally beaten in an alley Monday night and three saloon patrons were charged today with murder.

The victim was Russell Bowler, 46, who suffered facial bruises and fractures in what police said was an attack following an argument in the saloon.

Charged with murder are Ora T. Brown, 31, Donald W. Johnson, 34, and Robert I. Hamor, 37. The saloon bartender, Earl C. Booker, 31, was charged with being an accessory to murder.

Police said Booker first told them that Bowler had been hit by a car in the alley but questioning of witnesses brought out there had been an argument in the saloon, that Booker ejected Bowler and the three others followed him to the alley.

Investigators reported a motorist who drove into the alley told them he saw the three men kicking Bowler in the face while Booker looked on from the saloon doorway.

Safety Code Not Valid, Says Judge

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — A Winnebago County Circuit Court judge has declared Illinois' new school safety code unconstitutional.

Judge Albert O'Sullivan Monday ruled that the law enabling the state superintendent of public instruction to draw up the code violated the Constitution. He said the superintendent "invaded the power of the legislature" by writing the code.

Rockford's school board had sued to challenge that part of the code requiring downstate schools to meet certain safety standards (which did not apply to Chicago schools.) The suit claimed the section was unconstitutional because the superintendent, Ray Page, had exceeded his authority in preparing it.

Judge O'Sullivan's ruling asserted that the enabling law did not set up guidelines for the superintendent to follow. Therefore, the code amounted to legislation, it said.

Defendants in the suit included Page and Charles Espy, Winnebago County school superintendent.

Survey Receives Federal Grant

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Natural History Survey has received a $10,200 federal grant to study migrating birds as hazards to aircraft.

Frank C. Bellrose, survey wildlife specialist, will be the principal investigator of the flight routes used by ducks, geese and swans in the Mississippi River flyway.

The area covered by the survey will include the region from North Dakota to eastern Ohio and south to the Gulf of Mexico.

Mayor of Streator Is Deposed

STREATOR, Ill. (AP) — Raymond O. Sopher, 48, deposed Monday as mayor of Streator, says his attorney probably will announce today whether Sopher would fight the ouster.

Judge Leonard Hoffman of La Salle County Circuit Court ruled that Sopher was ineligible to retain office because he had been convicted of a felony. Judge Hubert L. Will, of U.S. District Court in Chicago, sentenced Sopher to four years in prison Dec. 1 for his part in a plot to take a $3,068 kickback on a $30,068 city sewer equipment contract.

Judge Will handed down three-year sentences to Sopher's four codefendants, city Councilmen John Kerestes and John Ramza and ex-council members Matthew Tibbles and Michael Ryan. The defense claimed that the kickback was a political contribution.

Sopher, whose elected term has about two years to run, said he should be allowed to stay in office until his recourse to higher courts is exhausted.

The prosecution argued that Illinois law made the five men ineligible to hold public office upon conviction.

Kerestes resigned voluntarily. Judge Hoffman was to rule today on whether to remove Ramza from office.

Lady Bird Is 52 Today

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson observes her 52nd birthday today and a White House spokesman said she was expected to spend most of the day wrapping Christmas presents and decorating the Johnsons' ranch home.

Demo Named Chairman

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Years of Republican control of the Illinois Budgetary Commission has ended with the unanimous election of Sen. A.L. Cronin, D-Chicago, as chairman.

Cronin, 62, was elected Monday after Rep. W. J. Murphy, R-Antioch, resigned. He will no longer be a legislator when the General Assembly convenes Jan. 6.

Murphy had been chairman since August 1963, when a coalition of Democrats and House Republicans ousted Sen. Everett R. Peters R-St. Joseph, after 16 years in the influential post.

Peters, who seconded Cronin's nomination, had no comment when asked by newsmen if he might try to regain the chairmanship when new members are appointed in January to replace lame ducks.

Murphy, Sen. Edmund Sweeney, D-Chicago, and four other lame duck members attended the meeting. The others were Rep. Paul Powell, Vienna, newly elected secretary of state; Rep. Peter C. Granata, R-Chicago; Rep. Charles K. Willett, R-Dixon, and Sen. T. Mac Downing, R-McComb.

Murphy and Granata were among Republicans denied a place on the November ballot by the GOP nominating convention. Mac Downing retired from the Senate and Sweeney and Willett were defeated in November.

Pilot Survives Two Crashes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — An American fighter pilot who arrived in South Viet Nam six weeks ago has crash-landed twice in the past four days in Communist territory.

Capt. Jude R. McNamara of Davenport, Iowa, survived both crashes without injury.

Defeated Republicans Will Band

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Republican representatives who were defeated in the at-large race for the House in November plan to band together in expressing their views to the 1965 General Assembly.

House Speaker John Lewis disclosed Monday that the 37 incumbents who were not re-elected plan to organize in February.

Lewis, who was one of 59 Republicans elected, said he would be willing to act as a spokesman for the defeated incumbents and voice their sentiments on the House floor.

"They will be a very influential group," Lewis said. "Even though they will no longer be House members, they will keep in touch with members of the legislature and the people back home."

Lewis said he and Rep. Harland Warren, R-Ottawa, decided recently that the incumbents who were defeated should organize. Warren was unsuccessful in the election.

Lewis indicated the defeated legislators will be vitally interested in reapportionment of the House.

"I haven't talked to one yet who doesn't want to seek election again," Lewis said.

The speaker said the legislators also will provide a necessary link between the House and many areas of the state which lost Republican representation when Democrats elected 118 House members.

Camera manufacturing requires extreme quality control. At one Japanese plant, the temperature in the lens-polishing room is so delicately balanced that the heat from a single human body can throw it off.

Percy Named To Board of GOP Boosters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles H. Percy, unsuccessful contender for governor of Illinois, is one of seven top Republicans appointed to an advisory board for the Republican Congressional Boosters Club, a new finance arm of the Republican Congressional Committee.

The board includes former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona, Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, Gov. George Romney of Michigan, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Rep. William E. Miller of New York. The appointments were made Monday by Rep. Bob Wilson of California, chairman of the congressional committee.

The project is seeking to raise $1 million to finance GOP congressional candidates' races.

Findley Named To GOP Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., was named to two subcommittees of the Republican Conference Monday.

The subcommittees will deal with minority employees of the House of Representatives and with implementation of the Republican national platform.

Capital Capsule

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Otto Kerner is to receive three safety awards today from the National Safety Council on behalf of Illinois.

The presentation will be made by Gen. John Lawlor of Chicago, executive vice president of the council. The awards are for excellence in traffic engineering, accident records and school safety education.

Bill Would Nix Legislators Crime Group Job

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Rep. Anthony Scariano, D-Park Forest, plans to introduce a bill to remove legislators from the Illinois Crime Commission.

Scariano said Monday his proposal would reduce the commission to seven members, all to be appointed by the governor. None could be a public official or an officer of a political organization.

Of the present 12-man commission, four are state representatives, four are senators and four are public members appointed by the governor.

Scariano said with legislators making up two-thirds of the commission, it would "never get around to the highly essential job of investigating the legislature itself."

Arraignment Is Delayed

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Arraignment of Theodore Isaacs on conflict of interest, conspiracy and collusion charges has been delayed until Feb. 19.

Circuit Court Judge Creel Douglass granted the continuance Monday at the request of attorneys for the former state revenue director. They said more time was needed to study the 65-page indictment.

Douglass also postponed until the same date the case against John Lang of Oak Park, former state printing supervisor, who also was named in the indictment.

The indictment was returned last Wednesday by a Sangamon County grand jury which investigated state envelope contracts. Isaacs was listed on 34 counts and Lang on 31.

State's Atty. Raymond Terrell said 60 to 70 prosecution witnesses will be called if the case goes to trial.

At the request of Isaacs' attorneys, Barnabus Sears of Chicago and Hugh Graham Jr. of Springfield, Douglass instructed Terrell to provide a list of witnesses by Jan. 18.

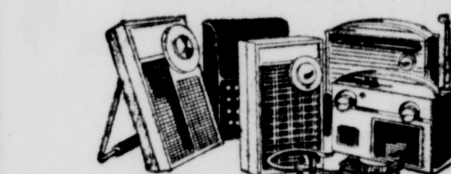

Douglass entered a plea of innocent for the Cook Envelope and Lithographing Co., which also was indicted. No one appeared for the company.

Both Isaacs and Lang posted $2,500 bonds last week.

How Elementary Physical Education Can Be Improved

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article about physical education at the elementary grade level was written by William Farley, supervising teacher of Physical Education, University School, Northern Illinois University, and Don Slutz, director, Elementary Physical Education, River Forest Public Schools. The article is being published with the permission of the authors, as it appeared in the December 1964 edition of Illinois Education.

As in English, math, spelling, etc., a solid foundation for physical education starts at the elementary level. In this article, the authors discuss the shortcomings of the physical education programs in most schools, and tell what can and must be done about it.

By WILLIAM FARLEY and DON SLUTZ

Elementary physical education, for the most part, has suffered more from a lack of concern and acceptance than has any other level of physical education. Consequently, those of us in the profession who are earnestly concerned with the elementary level are faced with a serious and difficult problem. The problem doesn't lie so much with what is being done for youngsters through elementary physical education, but with those who are responsible for the fact that not enough is being done — especially at the age when the most could and should be done.

As physical educators, we stand in the front line of those who should carry the major share of criticism and blame. Too many of us, trained in understanding the contributions of physical education and how they may be achieved, have been content to work hard, serve the youngsters who flow through our limited programs, and remain quiet. We have accepted as inevitable and unchangeable the lack of leadership within our field, the pressures of an uninformed public, and the lack of school law enforcement. There are also those of us who have remained quiet but who have been frustrated by administrators and boards of education who fail to recognize that physical education, properly conducted, is more than just an activity or play period. It is time that physical educators and administrators were concerned with correcting this situation.

What is the present situation? Surveys indicate that six out of 10 elementary schools in the nation do not offer any organized program of physical education whatever; of the remaining four schools, the programs range from one period a week, above fourth grade, to five periods a week for all pupils. In many cases the instructional work is the responsibility of the classroom teacher who generally does not have the background, training, interest, or facilities with which to conduct an adequate program of physical education. Many classroom teachers do an acceptable job, as busy as they are in their primary task of helping pupils gain mastery over the tool skills, but they are too few and get too little help in this area. Where special teachers conduct programs, too often the emphasis is placed on the older pupils, mainly the boys, in terms of time allotment, facilities, and opportunity for after-school recreation.

The picture of the average program is most discouraging. It shows no regularly scheduled instruction-activity period, no gymnasium nor adequate multiple-purpose room. Playgrounds are too small, and usually without equipment except for non-developmental swing sets. We see no specially trained staff member in charge of instruction and supervision.

It is at the elementary level that the very best physical education instructors, equipment, and facilities are desperately needed. What should every youngster be getting in the way of physical education? Section 27.6 of the School Code of Illinois states, "Pupils enrolled in the public schools and state universities engaged in preparing teachers shall, as soon as practicable, be required to engage daily, during the school day, in courses of physical education and health instruction for such periods as are compatible with the optimum growth and development needs of individuals at the various age levels."

What would this mean to a boy or girl of elementary school age, if we would provide youngsters with the opportunity to develop toward maximum total fitness — physically, socially, mentally, and emotionally?

It would mean that each boy and girl, beginning at first grade, would spend approximately 40 minutes a day in activities which would provide opportunities for vigorous movement; instruction in fundamental skills; sharing work and play with others; learning a variety of games, stunts, and contests; and practicing how to become a responsible member of a group. Each would be given a chance to know and appreciate the wonders of the human body, how it functions, and how it is trained and maintained. Each would have the opportunity to learn, through a systematic progression of activities, how to walk, run, dance, climb, throw, catch, jump, fall, and swim; to develop speed, endurance, stamina, flexibility, strength, and balance; to learn, through participation, a variety of individual, partnership, and team activities for use in future school years and leisure-time pursuits; to learn self-control, the acceptance of rules and regulations, how to win or lose in a sportsmanlike manner. Each would be better prepared for a fuller and more useful life.

The problem is many-sided. Before it can be solved, it must be seen more clearly.

One aspect is the belief that youngsters will somehow grow and develop unguided. That they will become physically stronger and more skillful as they grow older is not true, any more than it is true that they would learn to read and write without guidance and motivation. Too long have we accepted the idea that the simple recess period devoted to free play is sufficient to meet the needs and interests of children. Undirected play can be and often is a frightening and shattering experience for the timid, weak, or poorly coordinated child. Cooperation, unselfishness, and respect for the rights and feelings of others are not necessarily the outcomes of free play. Certainly recess periods can provide an opportunity for the use of skills already learned, but they can not provide a chance for children to learn new skills based on past experience or to develop, unguided, more acceptable standards of personal behavior.

There is another side of the problem. By nature, man is active and designed for physical movement. His total well-being and effectiveness is still dependent upon the soundness of his human machine. Physical fitness was originally a natural by-product of regular participation in a wide range of vigorous activities essential to survival. Since the necessities of food, shelter, and safety came to our modern youngsters with little, if any, effort physically, schools must now accept the responsibility for providing physical education programs which satisfy these developmental needs. Programs will need to include a wise balance of uncomplicated, vigorous physical activity for all pupils. Modern living, medical knowledge, and scientific invention have combined to make our youngsters soft, germ-free, and content to watch from the sidelines. Youngsters are wired for release of emotional tension through action, not reaction; yet we continue to plan increased acceleration of the type of activities which produce mental and emotional tensions, without the corresponding necessary physical development.

Finally, there is the misconception that children can grow and develop socially and physically under a blanket of adult "over-protection." Unfortunately, unwarranted adult fears have resulted in too many programs of over-organized, non-active, rule-heavy, adult-pleasing activities to take the place of creative, exploratory, self-expressive activities which properly trained physical education teachers can provide.

Why are we doing so little physically for our children during the days of early education? We know how important the formative years are. We know that fundamentally an individual's habits, interests, and attitudes do not change much after graduation from grade school; but we disregard this knowledge and are content to let things continue as they are. We can place the blame on several problems.

Some of the Problems
Colleges and universities are over-crowded with secondary physical education majors, persons who are sincerely concerned and capable of doing something about the physical fitness of our nation's youth. Why are most of them training at the high-school level? Bigger salaries can be earned at this level; there are added increments for coaching. Generally, their primary interest is in coaching athletics, and the teaching of high-school education provides more opportunities. There is also the prestige angle — the erroneous notion that the higher the level of grade one teaches, the more important the job is.

A great number of interested physical education majors proceed through their secondary preparation unaware of the opportunities at the elementary level. This may be due partly to their own limited elementary experience, or to a lack of information on the part of the institutions where they are receiving their training. It is our feeling that institutions which train teachers should not only provide but require elementary experience for all physical education majors, both men and women.

Parents must accept their share of responsibility. They become very concerned when their Johnny or Judy isn't learning to spell, add, read, or write. They will inquire about the reasons for this failure. If it's the fault of the program, the teacher, or the pupil, something is usually done when enough protest is lodged. But what about the Johnny or Judy who can't run, jump, climb, swim, dodge, skip, balance, or kick skillfully, or isn't given an opportunity to learn these skills? Parents could help tremendously, by finding out what is or is not being offered and placing intelligent pressure on the school systems to do something about inadequate programs.

Finally, we can direct a share of the blame toward those elementary physical education teachers who are already in a position to demonstrate the values of a thoughtfully planned, well-conducted program. Unfortunately, many of them conduct their classes as if they were nothing more than recreational periods. It is little wonder that administrators do not become concerned about having classroom teachers handle recess periods when they witness specially trained physical educators offering nothing more.

Suggestions for Solution
These are a few of the problems that must be eliminated if elementary physical education is to be improved. Looking to the future, our direction is clear. Talk must be transformed into accomplishments.

1. We must take resolute, sustained action to place greater emphasis on elementary physical education teacher preparation (including practice teaching) in our teacher-training institutions, for men as well as for women. This would enable us to develop and to place teachers with functional, effective understanding of physical education activities which are interesting and beneficial to elementary pupils, teachers who would have effective methods for working with children and guiding their growth.
2. Parents should take an active interest in what kinds of physical education programs are being offered to their children, in an effort to influence school systems to provide adequate staff, facilities, and time.
3. Administrators must follow the recommendations of experts who have been crusading for full-fledged, full-time physical education teachers as essential additions to the elementary school faculty.
4. Legislators and educators must unite in their efforts to rewrite and enforce state laws which will provide adequate physical education programs for elementary schools.
5. Most important, professional teachers of physical education must unite at all levels of education and make use of every opportunity to sell physical education for youngsters in elementary school. When we advertise a product as important as the physical development of our youth, we are bound to find buyers. The President and his Council on Youth Fitness are selling, the American Medical Association is selling, the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction is selling. How about the rest of us?

Lambert Inks Giants' Pact

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Giants have beaten their crosstown rivals, the New York Jets, for the second time in pro football's signing derby.

The National League Giants announced the signing of Frank Lambert, the Mississippi punter who led the nation's major college kickers with a 44.1 average this season.

Lambert was the Giants' fifth draft pick and was selected No. 10 by the Jets in the American League draft. Earlier, the Giants had signed Pitt linebacker Ray Popp, who was drafted by both New York teams as a future last year.

In Monday's other signings, the NFL picked up two players and the AFL one.

Green Bay signed their third-round draft pick, Allen Brown, a tight end from Mississippi. Brown, 6-foot-4 and 230 also was a third-round choice of the San Diego Chargers in the AFL draft.

The Minnesota Vikings inked Mike Tilleman, a 260-pound defensive tackle from Montana State University, who was drafted in the 12th round as a future. Tilleman was selected by Denver of the AFL.

The Broncos meanwhile, signed Tulsa tackle Bob Breitenstein, their fifth-round choice. The 260-pound senior was chosen in the NFL's second round by Washington.

At Life's Crossroads

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Not every college senior in the United States sees himself at the crossroads of life even before graduation day.

But not every college senior is like Chuck Mercein, a top flight fullback who has been drafted by teams in both the National and the American Football Leagues.

The Yale fullback is trying to choose between casting his lot with the New York Giants of the NFL and the Buffalo Bills of the AFL.

"I consider this the most important decision of my life," said the 21-year-old Mercein, who has attracted scouts of the college and professional variety since his days as a stalwart of the New Trier High School team in Winnetka, Ill.

Mercein, a history major, is facing a dilemma and is waiting before making an official commitment.

The commitment, when it is made, will be an oral one. He can't sign a contract until after the track season. Mercein is a shot-putter and a good one.

"This is the crossroads of my life," said Mercein. "You're sort of setting your destiny in a league, it seems to me."

Phil Esposito Hitting Stride

MONTREAL (AP) — Young Phil Esposito knows how important it is to keep the right company. Chicago Black Hawk Coach Billy Reay introduced the sophomore center to a fellow named Hull two weeks ago and the National Hockey League scoring race hasn't been the same since.

With Bobby Hull launching his almost annual assault on the NHL record book at a goal per game gait, Esposito has picked up the tempo and shot into third place in the NHL point-scoring race according to statistics released today.

Esposito, who scored just three goals and two assists in 27 NHL games last year, hit four goals and assisted on five others last week to run his season totals to 13 goals and 14 assists for 27 points and third place.

The youngsters' surge gives the Black Hawks the top three spots in the scoring race. Defending champion Stan Mikita with 8-26-34 is 10 points back of Hull whose 28 goals in 28 games has him zeroing in on the NHL record book again.

Hull shares the one-season record of 50 goals with Bernie Geoffrion and Maurice Richard and is 21 games ahead of the pace he set in 1961-62 when he tied the mark.

OVER and UNDER

By JIM BLUBAUGH
Telegraph Sports Editor

When Mrs. Irene S. Sweet, a traveling physical education teacher in the Dixon school system died on Thursday, this city lost one of its most dedicated and valuable teachers.

Mrs. Sweet had been in the Dixon school system since the 1956-57 school year, traveling to the different elementary schools to teach physical education to the grade school girls.

Except for the years 1958-61, Mrs. Sweet was the only physical education teacher for the girls of Dixon—an almost impossible task considering the number of students and the difficulty of the job of teaching physical activities to younger children.

Yet, Mrs. Sweet did the job, and with perfection.

And, if there were ever a person who demonstrated courage, it was Mrs. Sweet.

After an operation for cancer at the beginning of this school year, Mrs. Sweet left the hospital, returned to the classroom, and participated in activities with her students.

Friends said she was an energetic person, who gave that extra to improve not only the physical education program in Dixon, but to improve each student she taught.

Physical education was extremely important to Mrs. Sweet, and she was interested in seeing the program grow in Dixon.

That is a major reason why we are publishing the article about elementary physical education on page 10 today.

We feel that Mrs. Sweet would have wanted it published, and would have wanted every parent, educator, and administrator to read it, and then try to do something about the shortcomings of the elementary physical education program.

Mrs. Sweet was constantly doing her best to improve a program in which she worked; for, as her friends say, she was truly a perfectionist.

HOLIDAY TOURNEYS

There are two holiday basketball tournneys in The Telegraph area after Christmas, and both should provide a lot of thrills for cage fans.

Forreston's tourney begins on Saturday, and there is a good chance that the first-round games will be as good as those in the championship bracket.

The Franklin Center Holiday Tournament begins on Monday, and a comparison of games played between the entries, shows that this should be a close, well-played tournament.

Both tournaments are scheduled to end on Wednesday, December 30.

FORRESTON

In our opinion, the best first-round game at Forreston will be at 6:45 p.m., Saturday.

That game will feature second-seeded Warren, last year's winner (it beat Forreston in four overtimes for the championship), against Walnut.

Normally a seeded team is supposed to have a fairly easy time of things, but we feel that the Raiders of Dutch Curl will give Warren all that it wants, and possibly more.

Game number four, which takes place at 8:15 p.m., will feature fourth-seeded Aquin of Freeport against unseeded Amboy.

Again, a seeded team is going to have its hands full.

Amboy has a good ball club, and it plays some pretty good competition during the season. There is a good chance that Aquin will bite the dust at 8:15 p.m., Saturday.

Other first-round games find fifth-seeded Orangeville taking on Elizabeth, and third-seeded Le-Win playing Lyndon. Those games are at 1:15 and 2:45 p.m., respectively, Saturday.

Forreston, which received the number one ranking, got a bye, but takes on the Orangeville-Elizabeth victor, Monday at 9 p.m.

FRANKLIN CENTER

Unbeaten Paw Paw and Ashton start Franklin's tournament off at 2 p.m., Monday.

In the second contest, Malta and Somonauk meet. Game time will be 3:15 p.m.

At 7 p.m., the host Eagles will play Milledgeville, while at 8:15 p.m., the Ohio Bulldogs will tangle with Leland.

There is no real favorite for this tourney, as comparative scores indicate a tight battle for the first-place trophy.

OTHER TOURNEYS

The Ducks are at Danville, of course, and several other area teams will be participating in holiday meets, some a fair distance from home.

Rochelle is at the DeKalb Tourney, which starts Saturday, and ends Wednesday.

The Hubs meet St. Charles in the second game, at 3 p.m., Saturday.

Mount Morris is in the Rockford Classic, which runs Dec. 26, 28-30. The Mounders take on McHenry at 3:30 p.m., Dec. 26.

Polo is participating in a round-robin tourney at Byron. It started last night, and ends Wednesday.

La Moille is in the Lonestar Tourney, which runs Jan. 2, 4, 5-6. Sterling Newman is participating in the Illowa Tournament at Riverdale, Dec. 28-30.

Wolverines Take Back Top Spot From Wichita

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan's mighty Wolverines, bounced out of the No. 1 spot last week, bounced right back in again.

The Wolverines, who beat Wichita 87-85 in their only outing last week, were named first on 28 of the 42 ballots cast by a national panel of sports writers and regained the top spot among the nation's collegiate basketball teams today.

Michigan polled 387 points on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third, and so on. Wichita, which had replaced Michigan as No. 1 in last week's poll, slipped back to second with five first-place votes and 317 points.

There was a general shuffling of the top ten, with only sixth-ranked Duke remaining in the same position.

Unbeaten Minnesota and once-beaten UCLA and St. Louis all moved up one spot, to third, fourth and ninth, respectively. San Francisco, unbeaten at 5-0, slipped two spots to fifth while three newcomers—Illinois, Indiana and Davidson—moved into the top ten replacing St. John's, N.Y., Kentucky and Vanderbilt. Michigan, like Wichita, now has a 5-1 record. The Wheatshockers rebounded from their loss to Michigan with a 71-60 victory over Drake in their only other outing.

Minnesota, unbeaten in five straight, moved up a notch on the strength of a convincing 88-69 romp over a good Utah State

Dickens Resigns

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Indiana University today announced the resignation of Phil Dickens, head football coach for the last seven years.

Indiana has had several losing football seasons despite several promising squads.

President Elvis J. Stahr said the resignation was accepted "with feelings of regret and genuine personal reluctance."

Polo Sinks Byron, 64-54, In Round-Robin Tournament

By JIM BLUBAUGH
Telegraph Sports Editor

BYRON — The Byron Tigers have always had a history of giving the Polo Marcos trouble on the basketball court, and although the Marcos won, 64 to 54, last night, they never could shake loose for an easy victory.

Stillman Wins
Stillman Valley defeated Leaf River, 65 to 53, and joined Polo as first-day winners in the Byron Round-Robin Tournament.

Tonight, Polo and Stillman clash at 6:45 p.m., with Leaf River and Byron tangling at 8:15 p.m. The tourney ends Wednesday, with the team which has the best record in three games, being declared the champion.

Last night's Polo-Byron tilt was a ragged affair, with the Marcos holding from three to 10 point margins throughout almost the entire contest. Several times Don Cender's Marcos had a good opportunity to break the tilt wide open, but never could accomplish the feat.

Many Fouls
Byron fell behind, 45 to 38, after three periods, it began to foul, and that is when it seemed as though it took forever to play the final stanza.

Four Tigers fouled out: Denny Dunham, Robin Jarrett, Eddie Harmon, and Jim Hogan, while only one Tiger, Rich Hewes, went the way of the personal violations' route.

Dwayne Reed got the Marcos off to a good start, whipping in their first three baskets, as the teams were tied at 6-6 early in the tilt.

However, Jim Schryver led a Polo offensive attack which put the Marcos in the lead, 13-7, at the 2:15 mark. After one quarter, Polo led, 17-12.

Cut Margin

Polo upped its margin a basket to start the second period, but with 5:24 left, Byron had narrowed it to 24-21. Yet less than two minutes later, Polo had taken an eight-point margin, 30-22.

The quarter ended at 32-29 in favor of Polo, as Eddie Harmon led a Byron comeback.

Byron was limited to just three field goals in the third quarter, as the Marcos whipped into a 45-38 lead.

John Hogan's Byron crew made a valiant effort to catch up in the final stanza, throwing a press. But too many fouls were called, and the Tigers couldn't do the job.

Leading Scorers
Schryver led all scorers with 25 points, while Reed scored 10, all in the first half.

Harmon tallied 14 for the losers, with Jarrett throwing in 12, Dunham 11, and Dean Ferb 10.

Byron dumped in 18 of 33 free throws, while Polo made 24 of 36. Byron had 28 personal fouls to Polo's 19.

Pekin Retains No. 1 Position

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Unbeaten Pekin strengthened its grip on the No. 1 position and Quincy climbed into the runner-up spot today in the Associated Press second weekly poll of Illinois high school basketball teams.

Pekin, an impressive winner in its first six starts, captured 13 out of 16 first-place votes and amassed 251 of a possible 256 poll points.

Unbeaten Quincy, Thornton of Harvey and Decatur each received one first-place vote.

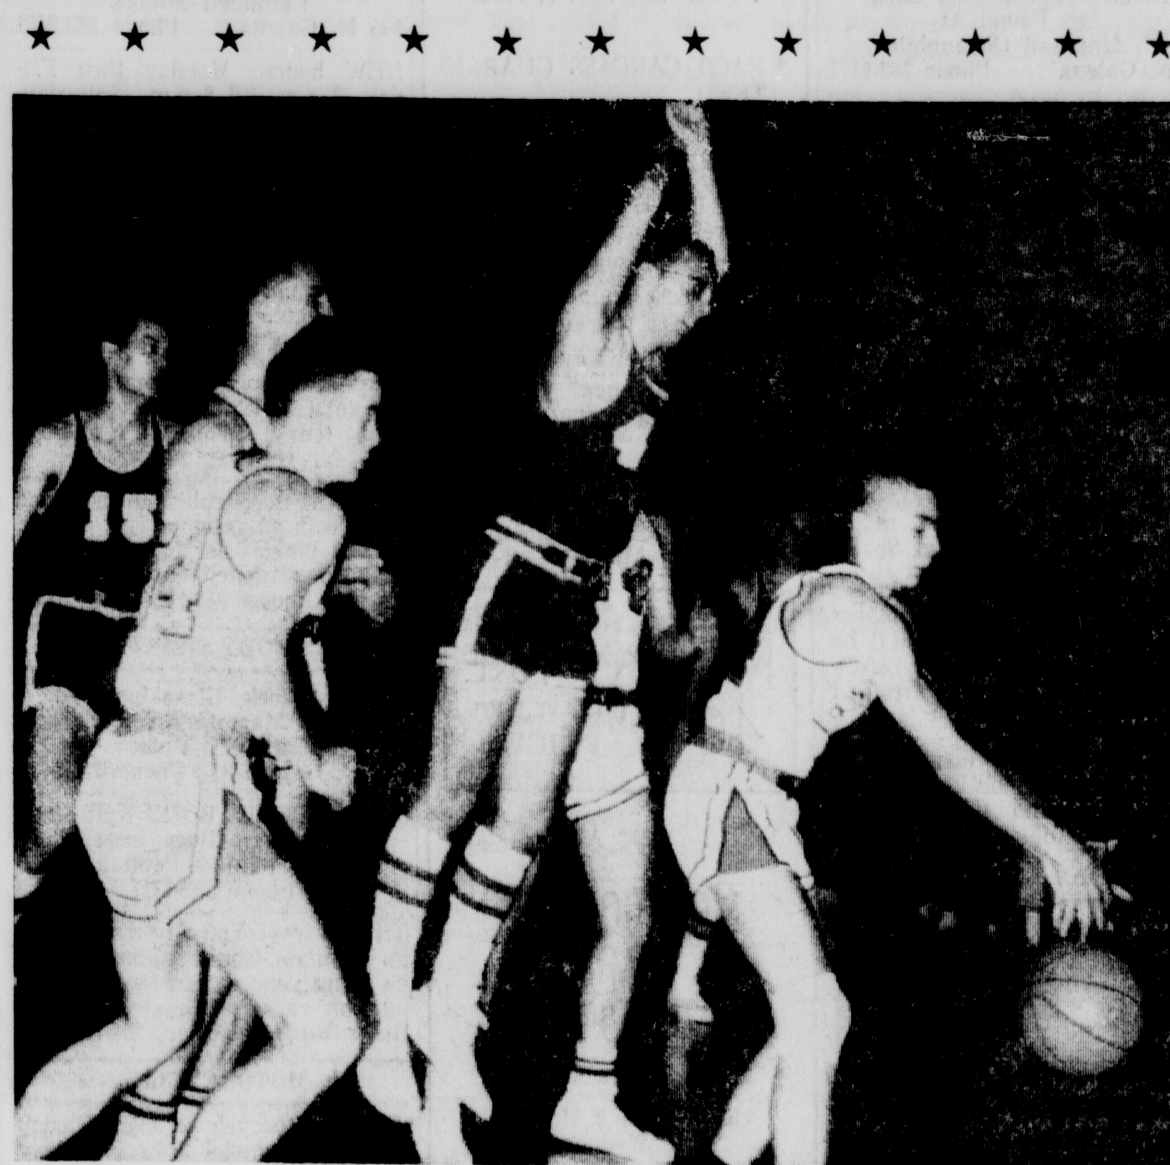

Danville, although un-stopped in eight starts, skidded from second to seventh place. Danville was forced to go all out in winning a 40-38 contest Friday from winless Bloomington.

Lockport advanced from fifth to third and Galesburg retained its hold on the No. 4 position.

The only newcomer to the top 16 was Decatur Eisenhower, which handed Collinsville its first defeat of the campaign Friday.

The top 16 teams with won-lost records and poll points:

1. Pekin 6-0	251
2. Quincy 7-0	224
3. Lockport 5-0	176
4. Galesburg 5-0	174

Good Balance

Dwayne Reed (43) of the Polo Marcos uses good balance to keep from running into Byron's Jim Hogan (with ball). Watching the action for Polo is Rich Hewes (15) and for Byron Dean Ferb (54) and Eddie Harmon (44). Hogan kept control of the ball in this action. Polo took the contest at Byron, 64 to 54.

Want Return Of Unlimited Substitution

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Almost anything the college football players can do, the professionals can do better. And this applies, too, to the rules-makers in the opinion of the majority of the writers and broadcasters participating in an Associated Press poll.

The return of free substitution and of the goal posts to the goal line, the latter to stimulate additional field-goal attempts, placed highest on the list of suggested rule changes for the 1965 college campaign. Both regulations are in force in professional football.

A total of 106 voters favored the return of unlimited substitutions. Thirty-one called for the elimination of the five-yard delay of game or intentional off-side penalties to make platoon substitutes.

Sixty-five voters advocated the adoption of other pro rules by the colleges, including 43 for the return of the goal posts to the goal line.
